IS MOVING DOWN
THE OHIO TODAY*Resident In Lower Lands
Along Mississippi
Prepare*BULLETIN

Shawneetown, Ill., March 23.—With the Ohio river rising steadily, ferry service was stopped today. A crest of 48 feet is expected by Sunday. This would inundate lowlands but is not expected to affect Shawneetown which is protected by the levee.

NOTICE

Metropolis, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—The Ohio river flood is expected to reach its crest here about Monday at approximately 46 feet. No damage here is anticipated. The rise in the last 24 hours was 1.3 feet.

At Paducah, Ky., where flood stage is 43, the stage today was 38.5 and at Cairo, Ill., where flood level is 45, the stage today was 40.7.

BULLETIN

Cairo, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—A crest stage of 45 to 46 feet by Tuesday of next week, was predicted by the Weather Bureau today, for the Ohio River.

The gauge reading today was 40.7, a rise of 1.8 feet in the last 24 hours. Cairo levees will withstand a 50-foot flood. No damage has occurred here.

The Mississippi river is low and is falling. The Tennessee has virtually expended its force at Johnsonville and the Ohio is slackening at Louisville.

Indianapolis, March 23.—(AP)—Flood crests rolled on to the lower reaches of southern Indiana streams and rivers today, while additional families in the lowlands abandoned their homes temporarily to the spreading expanse of water. Nearly a thousand families took up a refugee existence in the shelter of schools and vacant buildings and homes, waiting for a recession of the flood. That this was on the way was indicated by falling stages along the upper reaches of the Wabash and White rivers, within the state, and the Ohio, on the south.

Twenty-five more families evacuated homes near Evansville, where crews of men under the direction of Kentucky Highway Commission officials filled sandbags to protect the Indiana fill approaching the Ohio river bridge.

OHIO RECEDING
Louisville, Ky., Mar. 23.—(AP)—As the Ohio river's crest surged inexorably toward the Mississippi, pressing floods in western Kentucky, Illinois and Missouri this week end, residents of stricken communities turned anxious eyes toward dripping skies today.

Showers descended on the already overladen watershed of the Ohio valley last night. The Weather Bureau forecast more rains for today but said they probably would be so light as to not cause serious increases in river stages.

The Ohio began receding along the 150 miles of watershed between Ashland, Ky., and Cincinnati after driving thousands of families from their homes in the lowlands of West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana. At least twelve deaths had been laid directly or indirectly to the flood.

The river was at a stand at Louisville, another 100 miles downstream from Cincinnati, after driving almost 800 families to higher ground here, but was still rising at Owensboro, where it was five feet above flood stage and at Paducah, where it had not yet reached flood levels.

With the Mississippi river already swollen before the Ohio's flood water swept into it, residents of western Kentucky, Illinois and Missouri bottomlands began an exodus similar to that caused by the up-river floods early in the week. The crest was expected at Paducah, on the Ohio, Saturday, and at Hickman, Ky., on the Mississippi, Monday.

Legislators Visit University Today

Champaign Ill., Mar. 23.—(AP)—The state university was on its best behavior today, awaiting a visit from the State Legislature. Senators and Representatives will arrive tonight for their regular inspection trip, the program starting with a banquet in the Woman's Building this evening at which President Harry Woodburn Chase, who retires as chief officer of the University of Illinois July 1, will be the principal speaker.

The student body rejoiced at the occasion, for classes were dismissed at noon today in view of the "legislative holiday."

Dean C. M. Thompson's fleet of faculty members' automobiles left this morning for Springfield to bring the lawmakers here.

An R. O. T. C. parade is scheduled at 3:45 P. M. Friday, the first official review since Col. David L. Stone took charge of the unit's first brigade last summer. The legislators probably about 50 in number will remain throughout Friday.

A most promising lot of sluggers and base-stealers turned out, reported Warden Nierstheimer. Practice will begin tomorrow.

Two of the women appeared on the streets barefooted.

TO FIGHT SALES TAX

A temporary injunction proceeding to be started at once to halt the new Illinois sales tax law was decided upon at a meeting held in Springfield yesterday which was attended by a delegation of Dixon merchants, who are opposed to the new law. The meeting was attended by about 200 delegates from various cities of the state and resulted in the organization of the State Retail Dealers Association, which plans to carry the sales tax law to the Illinois Supreme Court in an effort to secure its defeat. The meeting was a very interesting, according to the Dixon delegates attending.

FARM BILL HAS MET OPPOSITION
IN UPPER HOUSE*Faces Many Amendments
In Senate Before
Its Passage

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—The Roosevelt farm bill was referred by the Senate today to the Agriculture committee which plans to meet tomorrow to take it up. The bill faced drastic revision and delay in the Senate, but Democratic leaders expressed confidence it would be passed finally in a form acceptable to President Roosevelt.

By a vote of 315 to 98, the bill, aimed at restoring the pre-war purchasing power of agriculture, was passed by the House yesterday and sent to the other side of the Capitol.

Amendments Drawn

Hundreds of amendments have been drawn by Senators who seek to revise the measure's provisions for investing unprecedented powers in the Secretary of Agriculture for controlling crop surpluses.

In addition, Senator McNary of Oregon, Republican leader, said he would ask for hearings, a move which would delay the speed with which the emergency measure has been rushing through the legislative mills.

The bill would apply to wheat, cotton, tobacco, corn, rice, hogs, cattle, sheep, milk and its products. The secretary of agriculture would attempt to balance production and consumption by agreements with farmers to reduce their output in return for direct payments or rentals from lands taken out of production.

The payments would come from processing taxes levied on the commodities.

Mortgage Situation

An amendment to be offered is the Roosevelt plan for refinancing agriculture and home mortgages at a lower rate of interest. That is the next step in the President's reconstruction program and is to be sponsored by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader.

The House debate before the final roll call on the bill revealed strong criticism, but the Democratic machine's great power put it across.

Seventy-three Republicans, 24 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite voted in opposition. Thirty-nine Republicans and four Farmer-Laborites joined the Democratic majority in favor.

DARROW TO ASK
HORNER TO SAVE
ROCKF'D KILLER*Chicago Lawyer Will Make Personal Request To Chief

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—Clarence Darrow, veteran defender of criminals, announced today he will go to Springfield soon to plead with Governor Henry Horner for the life of Russell McWilliams, youthful Rockford, Ill., slayer.

Darrow was attorney for McWilliams at his last trial for shooting to death a street car motorman. Then the youth was convicted and sentenced to death for the third time. He is scheduled for the electric chair on April 21.

Outlining the plea he will make, Darrow said the case was one of public policy.

"To kill the boy in the electric chair would amount to a crime by the state," he said. "In the history of criminal jurisprudence in Illinois there has never been a mere boy executed."

Darrow charged court rulings in McWilliams three trials were unfair. The Supreme Court had ruled so twice, he said, adding:

"At this third trial who defended him were refused the right to withdraw the boy's plea of guilty so that we might have a trial by jury."

Failed To Escape Federal Penalty

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 23.—(AP)—Federal Judge Charles G. Braggle late yesterday upheld the government's contention that a Chicago man would not rent a two-acre hog wallow in Montgomery county to go fishing, and sentenced Clarence Nelson, Hillsboro farmer, to three months in jail and fined him $500 and costs for violation of the national prohibition act.

A 700 gallon still and 38,000 gallons of mash were found on the two acres which Nelson said he had rented out. When first arrested Nelson said he didn't know the men but would watch for them and report. Next day the still was entirely removed, and Nelson pleaded ignorance.

Postpone Inquest In Lambert's Death

Columbus, Ohio, March 23.—(AP)—Investigation into the death of Dr. F. A. Lambert, 47, nationally known authority on football, was postponed until after the funeral tomorrow.

Lambert was shot fatally by his son, Samuel, 17, during a family quarrel. Before he died, he absolved his son of blame, saying the shot was fired to protect Mrs. Lambert. The son was not held by police.

Mrs. Lambert said her son fired the shot while Dr. Lambert was attempting to choke her. She expressed the belief the shooting was accidental.

"Ruthless Deflation" Of Banks By Treasury Dept.
Charged In Senate Today*Liberalization Must Be Policy, Sen. Vandenberg Declared

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich.), asserted in the Senate today that a "rule of ruthless deflation" had been followed in licensing banks to reopen and some liberalization in administration of the Emergency Banking Act was needed if many closed banks were to be saved.

Vandenberg addressed his remarks to the pending bill to permit direct loans from Federal Reserve banks to state banks and trust companies outside the Federal Reserve System.

He spoke after Senator Glass (D. Va.) had opposed an amendment by Senator Adams (D. Colo.) to exempt the state banks from the requirement of a "thorough examination" before they could receive a loan.

Glass said in some states there has been no examination of banks since May 2, 1932.

The First National Bank of Morris was permitted to reopen today on an unrestricted basis by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Mrs. Judd's Case
Under Advisement

Phoenix, Ariz., March 23.—(AP)—The Arizona State Board of Pardons and Paroles was expected to begin today its consideration of the clemency plea of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, sentenced to hang April 14 for the murder of Mrs. Agnes LeRoi.

If clemency is extended the decision is expected to be announced early in April. The condemned woman has asked for one of four things—a full pardon, life imprisonment, the lawful penalty for murder in the second degree (10 years to life) or the lawful penalty for manslaughter (1 to 10 years).

At her trial for the murder of Mrs. LeRoi, Mrs. Judd claimed insanity as her defense. She was never brought to trial on the charge of slaying Miss Hedvig Samuelson, killed the same night by Mrs. LeRoi.

After her conviction, Mrs. Judd told a story of killing in self defense.

French Premier
Wants Roosevelt
To State Policy

Paris, March 23.—(AP)—The decision of Premier Daladier to await definite knowledge of President Roosevelt's attitude on war debts before acting on payment was conveyed to the Socialist group in the Chamber of Deputies today by Deputy Pierre Renaudel.

M. Renaudel said the Premier had told him that a number of ministers and many deputies had urged payment but that M. Daladier had been convinced that nothing should be done until American policy had been clearly defined.

(A resolution calling for the payment of the defaulted interest of $19,000,000 on war debts owed to the United States was introduced in the Chamber of Deputies last Saturday by Deputy Rene Richaudeau.)

Transport Plane Falls: None Hurt

Rantoul, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—An Army transport plane piloted by Lieut. Earl Partridge of Selfridge Field, Mich., and carrying the telephone wires at Chanute Field today and crashed. No one was injured.

Snow prevented the ship from gaining altitude on the takeoff. Capt. W. C. Farnum, Adjutant, explained.

The basketball team was en route to Scott Field at Belleville, Ill., where it is scheduled to play tonight. The team met the Chanute Field quintet last night.

William Lorimer Is Seriously Ill

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—William Lorimer, a power in Illinois politics a quarter of a century ago, is seriously ill at his home, suffering from heart disease. He is 72 years old.

His physicians, Dr. Leo Hardt, sounded a hopeful note for his patient, however, when he said Mr. Lorimer has "great recuperative powers."

BIG BOND ISSUE FOR FINANCING
FARM MORTGAGES*Speaker Rainey Discloses
Plans Of Administration
Today

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—Speaker Rainey told newspapermen the Treasury today was considering and Congress "shortly" will receive a recommendation from President Roosevelt for enactment of a farm mortgage refinancing plan calling for the possible issuance of two billion dollars worth of bonds.

"A tentative draft of the bill is in the hands of Secretary Woodin for any suggestions he might have to make," Rainey said.

He predicted that for the sake of speed, this bill will be added in the Senate to the farm price fixing bill we passed yesterday.

As the measure now stands, Rainey asserted, it calls for a bond issue to provide funds for the refinancing.

"The bond issue might reach $2,000,000,000, but we hope it won't go over $1,000,000,000," the Speaker said.

"The bill calls for complete liquidation of the Joint Stock Land Banks as soon as it has been enacted," Rainey contended. "It provides an extension of the farm loan system to replace the Joint Stock Land Banks and to embrace as many mortgages as will be obtainable through conciliatory methods."

It has not yet been determined, he asserted, whether the new bonds would be sold on the open market used to obtain mortgages or whether the bonds would be exchanged for mortgages.

The interest rate on the mortgages, under this plan, Rainey said, could "be reduced to 5 per cent anyhow instead of the 7 or 8 the farmers now pay, and if the bonds can be sold at a low enough rate, that figure will be even smaller."

Joint Stock Land Banks, with their $49,000,000 in outstanding securities, would be required to liquidate themselves "in an orderly way" and be "refused the right to issue any more tax exempt bonds," Rainey said. The only functions left to them, he continued, would be to do the refinancing necessary for liquidation.

GOV. HORNER TO SEEK FINANCES
IN WASHINGTON*State Executive To Ask Loan From R.
F. C. This Week

Chicago, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner stopped off in Chicago today enroute from the state capital at Springfield to Washington and learned that his brother James had undergone an operation for appendicitis.

The Governor feared for a time that the Washington trip would have to be postponed, but improved in his brother's condition made it appear probable that no delay would be necessary.

While at the national capital he planned to confer with National Committeeman P. A. Nash and Senators Dietrich and Lewis over federal jobs in Illinois.

He also planned to confer with Reconstruction Finance Corporation officials over obtaining funds for unemployment relief and for meeting public payrolls.

It was reported the Governor would ask for further federal relief funds on the grounds that they could be repaid as quickly as collection of the newly enacted state sales tax begins. Funds also will be sought to pay school teachers and other Chicago employees.

Prospective Beer
Dispensers Ask
About City Fees

No written applications for licenses to sell beer have been filed with City Clerk Blake Grover, although probably a dozen have called to inquire about the license fee to be charged by the city council in Dixon. One applicant, Peter Poulos, appeared at the city hall and made verbal application for a license to sell bottled beer and several telephone calls have come to the city clerk.

The council members have not decided upon a fee to be charged for the selling of beer in Dixon although it is expected that this issue will be decided at the meeting of the commission next Tuesday evening. It is understood that one member of the commission favors a maximum license fee of $200 to conform to the ruling of the county board of supervisors which was decided last week in the licensing of road houses. Others favor a license of $100 per year to be paid monthly in advance.

Stevens Partially Conscious Today

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—James W. Stevens, indicted head of the Illinois Life Insurance Co., regained consciousness this morning long enough to recognize his wife and nurse, speak a few words and take a small amount of nourishment.

Then he lapsed into the comatose condition in which he has remained since last Saturday when he suffered an apoplectic stroke.

BANKER DROPS DEAD

Broughton, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—Arthur Dawes, cashier of the First State Bank of Broughton, dropped dead at his home last night. The bank has been closed eighteen months.

Two Die In Fire At Oil Refinery

Elizabeth, N. J., March 23.—(AP)—Fire which started today in a crude oil still at the Bayview refinery of the Standard Oil Company, took the lives of two workmen. Another was badly burned.

One was injured, and four more required emergency treatment for slight burns.

The dead are: John Hoens, 60 years old, a foreman in the company's employ 36 years; and Thomas Carolan, 52, a stillman with the company 21 years.

April 6th Has Been Important
Date In History

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—April 6, the day beer is destined to flow again in states not on Eastern Standard Time, has been an important date in past history.

It was on April 6, 1789 that George Washington was elected as the first President.

And it was April 6, 1862 that the Battle of Shiloh was fought.

April 6, 1909 was the day Admiral Peary discovered the North Pole and claimed it for the United States.

Lastly, the United States declared war on Germany, April 6, 1917.

The time discrepancy occurs in the east where the sale of beer begins at 12:01 A. M., April 7. The time differences in the west make it legal in the closing hours of April 6.

COST UNCERTAIN

St. Louis, March 23.—(AP)—A five cent glass of beer of about six or eight ounces will be possible under federal and state taxes on the newly authorized product, in the opinion of St. Louis brewers.

The brewers have not yet finished the task of working out production costs. They said it probably will be possible to retail beer at 15 cents a bottle, and 10 cents a pint in case lots for home consumption.

Brewers officially have nothing to do with retail prices but the prices they will be able to quote to retailers will be an all-important factor.

Another factor in the setting of beer prices is the uncertain index of normal consumption when beer becomes legal.

CHAMPION TWISTER

Reading, Pa., March 23.—(AP)—Beer's "comeback" has stimulated anew the national championship ambitions of Pennsylvania's pretzel-bending titleholder—twister of 30 million of the curlycue appetizers.

Best of the conquering new world, 22-year-old Helen Hoyer, who snared the state crown by twisting 48 pretzels a minute, now challenges all comers for American supremacy.

Every working day she turns out one and a half times her weight in pretzels, and she looks upon 32 beer as the starting gun in a race for bigger and better bending records.

Miss Hoyer, starting work in her teens, has bent 30,000,000 pretzels and has been able to outtwist the thousands of other workers who turn out some $4,500,000 worth of pretzels in Pennsylvania annually.

NO ADS TILL APRIL 6

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—Newspapers will not be permitted to carry beer or wine advertisements until midnight April 6 under an informal ruling today by the Postoffice Department.

Solicitor Horace J. Donnelly told newspapermen the present prohibition against such advertisements being carried in the mails would not be lifted until the beverage could legally be sold.

Violation of the law carries a maximum fine of $1,000 or six months imprisonment or both.

Donnelly declined to say whether or what action was contemplated against papers that already have carried such advertisements.

SHORT OF BARRELS

Chicago, March 23.—(AP)—Joseph Dublin, editor of Brewery Age, said today the brewing industry was faced with a shortage of suitable barrels. All available barrels in this country have been bought up, he added, and inquiries were being directed to Germany and other countries.

The sudden rush for barrels has revealed a serious shortage of suitable barrel timber. Ordinarily it takes about six months to properly cure and treat timber.

Farm Bureau Head
In Reply To Hart

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation in an open letter to Congress today denounced derogatory remarks on farm leaders recently made by Representative Hart of Michigan in the House.

"Any man in Congress who attacks farm organizations, or farm leaders advocating such a program (as the farm relief bill) is wholly wrong; and we have no hesitancy in calling the attention of all members of the House to the unbecomingly as well as unethical position of Congressman Hart in this regard," said O'Neal.

Hart, opposing the farm bill last Tuesday, said President Roosevelt "reminds me today of the man who came down from Jericho and fell among thieves, because he certainly fell in with a dishonest lot when he fell in with the farm leaders."

Two Pekin Youths Killed By Train

Pekin, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—Louis and Joe Gerbac, brothers, were instantly killed early this morning when their car was struck by a freight train at the main crossing of the Chicago & North Western Railroad in South Pekin.

Louis, 20, who was driving, failed to see a brakeman who attempted to flag them. The other brother, 22, was decapitated in the crash.

The youths had attended a dance and were returning to Pekin after taking their girl companions to their homes in South Pekin.

GOVERNMENT IS MOVING FAST TO OPEN BEER TAPS*Stamps And Permits Are Being Rushed To Operating Plants

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—The Federal government today moved swiftly to open the beer taps through which a legal 3.2 brew will flow to America's thirsty after midnight of April 6.

Machinery to license brewers was set in motion by Dr. James M. Doran, Industrial Alcohol Commissioner, who pledged himself to keep bootleg beer racketeers out of the legalized industry.

Government officials acted a day after President Roosevelt signed into law a bill which permits the sale of beer and wine of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content. The President's action signalled the end of the absolute prohibition which has prevailed since 1920.

Leaders of prohibition organizations, meantime, made plans for testing the law's constitutionality and for blocking the sale of beer by injunction. They served notice of a determined court battle.

Traveling Around America

A CONEY ISLAND THRILL IN THE TROPICS

ALMOST all of the old-time thrill of the sea voyage has been dissipated by the modern luxury liner. The absence of the anticipatory thrill is due in large part to the absence of any danger attendant upon a venture into the great blue spaces of the ocean.

With the passing of the sense of risky adventure, however, has passed the cramped and strange discomforts of the ships of former days. Today's liners are combined homes, hotels and country-club afloat, and passengers are ministered to with all the efficient service of the caterers. This, together with the marvels of modern marine construction which keep the ship steady even in choppy weather, robs the ocean voyage of its former sense of insecurity.

But travelers on the New York to California weekly cruises through the Canal and Central America have one thrill in store for them—a brief ride which has all the stimulation of a Coney Island jaunt. It is when they go ashore in the "bird cage" at one of the ports in Guatemala. The ship anchors off shore and the passengers are hoisted from the ship's deck and lowered into the big shore launches which are tied up alongside. The cage is lifted by sturdy steel cables, and a ride in it gives added zest to the trip ashore into new and strange lands.

ELIMINATION OF

PARTY CIRCLES

SOUGHT IN BILL

The Illinois House Gets

Measure Sponsored By Women

Springfield, Ill., March 23—(AP)—A bill to eliminate the party circle from the ballot was introduced today in the House of Representatives today by William C. Thon, Republican, Oak Park. It was sponsored by the Illinois League of Women Voters, and is known as the "office group ballot."

Beside doing away with the party circle and party column, it provides for grouping the candidates by offices, and for the rotation of the names of candidates on the ballot, to do away with the unfair advantage enjoyed by the candidate getting first place.

This form of ballot was first used in Massachusetts in 1888, and is now used in 16 states, including New York and Pennsylvania. Those sponsoring it declare "it will discourage election corruption, make government more responsive to the needs of the people and make it necessary for candidates to stand on their own merits."

The idea underlying this form of ballot is to require each voter to put a mark opposite the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote.

Bill to permit the State Treasurer to take advantage of a good market and sell collateral given out on receipt of state funds by banks which have closed, were introduced in the House and Senate by Floor Leader Thomas P. Sennett and Senator Shaw.

They were offered at the request of State Treasurer Martin, to amend the present law which requires the State Treasurer to give closed bank thirty day notices before selling their collateral, which they had given to insure repayment of state money.

Among other bills introduced today were the following:

Franz, C. D., by request, amends game code to regulate traps used, and amendment to conservation act, to prevent sale of blittersweet.

Soderstrom, would prevent contracts dealing with agreements regarding labor organizations.

Other Bills Filed
Soderstrom, regulates issuing of injunctions in labor disputes.

Soderstrom, prohibits injunction against officers or members of labor organizations.

Three economy bills introduced by J. T. Burns of Kankakee were passed without opposition in the House today, and sent to the Senate.

One of them would reduce the salaries of the Marshal of the Supreme Court from $3600 to $3000, the Supreme Court Librarian from $4000 to $3000 and private secretaries of Justices from $5000 to $4000.

Another would fix the compensation for sales by Masters-in-Chancery at 3 per cent of the selling price of less than $200, and where the sale amounts to more than $200, at 1 per cent on the balance, over that, and reduces the maximum compensation from $200 to $100.

The third bill would give sheriffs in first and second class counties mileage for only one trip, when more than one defendant or witness is served in the same manner in the same cause on the same day and trip.

RELEASE
By Rubie Forsythe
TIME was, when my heart was breaking
For the blue bird and the heather hill
And the gold hush of a Highland autumn
When time stands still.

Time was, when my eyes looked backward,
Down the vista of vanished years
And even the gleam of the morning glory
Was dim with tears

But now I know that the past is gathered
Safe in the cup of my Father's hand,
That loss and sorrow have never entered
The "Promised Land."

The bolt is broken, the door is open,
The curtain risen, the vision is clear;
At last I know the Kingdom of Heaven
Is now, and here.

Silver Wedding for The Jas. Richardsons

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Richardson of Lee Center celebrated their silver wedding anniversary by entertaining fifty guests Saturday night. Their spacious home was tastefully decorated with ferns and flowers, with the color green predominating. Mrs. B. P. Mason conducted a successful session of the old fashioned school with the guests as pupils. A spelling match, a visit from the county superintendent, Walter Wellman, and an original anniversary poem by Mrs. W. S. Frost, were featured in the program, which caused much merriment.

A charming mock wedding was staged in the green bower, the entire group being composed of children of the original wedding party of 1908, and some of the guests. The bride and ring bearer wore the same dresses of twenty-five years ago and Walter Wellman sang "I Love You Truly," as he did on the former occasion. Doris Richardson was the blushing bride, Shirley Richardson the happy groom, Esther Richardson the bridesmaid, Edwina Leake, the best man, Marilyn Smith the ring bearer, and Philippa Flach, the minister.

The masculine costumes worn by the young ladies were most effective. Walter Wellman then favored with a reminiscent talk about the wedding of 1908, interspersed with jokes for which he is justly famous. His little son, Walter Jr., sang and his daughter Joan gave a recitation, all of which was highly entertaining.

A sumptuous two course supper was then served including a delicious wedding cake. The bridal couple received many lovely gifts of silver and the groom presented the bride with a large box of fragrant flowers. A little gingham dress worn by the groom at an early age and made by his mother Mrs. Melissa Richardson, was on display.

Mrs. Hoyle Hostess To So. Dixon Unit

The South Dixon Home Bureau Unit, met with Mrs. Peter Hoyle Tuesday afternoon, March 14. The meeting opened by all singing, "Wearing of the Green," in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's and vice-chairman's reports were given and accepted. A very interesting and practical lesson on "Dressing Up Your Windows," was given by Mrs. Syverud. Many samples of material for drapes and curtains were displayed and several small curtain sets and bed spreads to match. These sets were made of gured and plain prints and unbleached muslin and were very pretty and inexpensive. Hints were given as to color schemes in different rooms, and different lengths and widths, which change the appearance of the window. There were also samples of window shades and Mrs. Syverud explained materials used and how they were made. This lesson created much enthusiasm. A vocal solo was given by Mrs. Lievan and was much enjoyed.

The meeting was adjourned to meet again April 11th, with Mrs. William Hoyle.

Fish a Basis For Lenten Meals

Many appetizing salad combinations for Lenten meals use fish as a basis. A luncheon of a vegetable cream soup, a fish salad, hot rolls or rye bread and a simple dessert of fruit is a nourishing and inviting meal.

Smoked and salted, as well as canned and fresh fish can be used to advantage in various salads. There is a smoked herring salad that seems to be a particular favorite with men and is especially suitable for a family luncheon or supper salad.

In choosing fish for salad, it is well to select a firm-fleshed variety. Cod, halibut, haddock and salmon separate into coarse flakes that do not crush when combined with other materials. Scallops, shrimp, crab meat and lobster are generally used in party salads. Scallops might well be used in the every-day luncheon salad, for they are rich in minerals and not as distinctly fishy in taste as the other shell fish.

The most important step in making a successful fish salad lies in thoroughly marinating the fish in lemon juice before combining with other materials. Allow at least an hour for the fish to stand in its marinade on ice.

While the choice of additional material requires careful consideration, it is less essential than the seasoning. In many instances the added material also contributes seasoning in the case of celery. Usually extra ingredients are added to give body to the mixture and subdue the strong fish taste. The addition of capers is a vast improvement to many fish salads. Finely shredded cabbage is inexpensive and makes a splendid substitute for celery with such fish as cod, haddock, halibut and scallops. Shredded leaf lettuce combines well with such fish as salmon, tuna and other dark fleshed fish. Green peas, canned or fresh, are good with almost any variety of fish but particularly shrimp, salmon and tuna.

Hard cooked eggs, often are added to fish salads, but they are used in the capacity of an "extender" rather than for seasoning or contrast. Highly flavored fish, such as tuna and smoked fish combines with eggs to make a delicately flavored salad. Since eggs furnish almost the same food values found in fish, no nourishment is sacrificed by the combination.

Jellied fish salads are another variation. Choose a lemon jelly for the foundation and fold the salad dressing into the mixture after the jelly begins to thicken. Grated cucumber folded into whipped cream makes an attractive garnish for such a salad.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — Perhaps no better illustration of the wide difference between the house and senate ways of doing things has appeared than the situation which presented itself within the first week of the special session.

The house, for all its size and unwieldiness moved along "house first" few days clipping off the various items in the President's legislative program with the speed and precision of a well-oiled machine.

On the first day of the session the emergency banking bill was passed. Two days later the President's drastic economy bill was shoved through. And on the fifth day of the session it had approved and sent to the senate the bill legalizing beer.

The senate, however, refused to show any such speed. After the banking bill had been cleared the first day, senators began to demonstrate that "the greatest deliberative body in the world" is no idle phrase.

REVERSE TECHNIQUE—

In the senate they talk first and then vote. In the house, it has been pointed out, the Representatives usually do their voting with a minimum of talking at the time and then later, if opportunity permits, give voice to their convictions.

That is what happened in the first week of the present special session. After the bill was out of the way in the House it seemed that there was nothing left to do. The Senate hadn't even finished with the economy bill.

So, to use the parliamentary expression, the House met "on the state of the Union." Jack Garner had a way of describing such a session as "letting the boys get it off their chest."

Speeches and grievances of every form are aired in the chamber, for the most part to a scant handful of colleagues, but to an enthusiastic handful.

LETTING OFF STEAM—

Such speeches may not go very far in influencing legislation. But the leaders know that in most instances, the members feel better after they have been permitted to "let off steam" and are more amenable to discipline thereafter.

A Fitting Business

In order to facilitate creation of frocks for the movie stars Hollywood designers have a dummy to correct measure of each patron. The rough frock is made on the dummy and the star need not go for a fitting until the last work is to be done. Adrienne Ames is shown having a final fitting while in the background are the dummy models of Marlene Dietrich, Miss Ames and Mae West.

down his telescope and take up his telescope, we could become acquainted. For my word is near to him, even in his own heart, if only he will learn to listen, and heed, and obey its command."

We must learn to listen; it is one of the finest of all arts. For prayer is a two-way experience, not a monologue but a dialogue. Asking is only one half of it; listening for the answer is the other half. Said an old singer, "I will hear what the Lord will say in me," and therein is a secret whereby men become truly wise.

For many in our day prayer is an idle, empty thing. It is like talking over a telephone with no one at the other end of the line, talking out into the air where there is no one who hears, no one who cares. No wonder they ask the question, Is there anybody there? Or does the silence give back only the echo of our own voice, and nothing else?

Of old it was said: "Be still, and know that I am God," and that is ever the way of wisdom and of faith. We must learn to be still and listen even amid windy bawlers, noisy shriekers, and the din and roar of our days, and not mistake the noise for the voice. Not in the storm, but in the stillness, the prophet heard a voice strangely gentle.

Everything is somehow the word of God, if we have ears to hear. If we know how to listen we may hear a whisper of that Voice which will still be speaking when all the noises of the world have followed the feet that made them into silence. There is more wisdom in an hour of prayer than in all the philosophies made by men.

American Aids Cuban Art

Jane Kendall Mason

By NEA Service—

New York — Jane Kendall Mason, characterized by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge as "the most beautiful girl ever to enter the White House" when she made her debut in Washington at 17, is helping to put Cuba on the social map by sponsoring a native art exhibit in New York.

Living in Cuba gave Mrs. Mason her tremendous interest in native art. When she married Grant A. Mason, Jr., and went to Havana to live, she was already interested in sculpture. To amuse herself, she started to investigate Cuban native art. There wasn't any! To her surprise she found that raising sugar and tobacco seemed to be the entire life of the people and that art had gone.

Studying native art of the past, Mrs. Mason worked out some designs for handicraft and gathered together a group of natives to weave, paint, make pottery and sculpt.

Soon she opened a small shop for Cuban arts and crafts, on the Prado in Havana. It became a mecca for tourists with the result that craftwork grew to be one of the major industries of Cuba. Shops sprang up everywhere. Peasants who had nothing to do worked out her designs and relearned almost forgotten designs of their own.

A BOOK A DAY

LARDNER AT HIS FUNNIEST

By Bruce Catton

"Lose With a Smile" brings Ring Lardner back to the baseball parks again, back to the "You Know Me, Al" sort of thing in which he made his first great success; and if the highbrows don't mind, your reviewer would like to remark that Mr. Lardner does this sort of thing better than he does anything else.

We have here a bush-league outfielder trying to break into the big leagues via a job with the Brooklyn Robins. We meet him at the training camp, where he writes letters to his girl back in Centralia, Ill.; and through these letters we follow him up to Brooklyn and around the National League circuit.

Naturally, the lad is a colossal dumb-bell, and he becomes the center of a comedy of errors that is amusing and instructive beyond belief. One day he knocks one out of the park and becomes a hero; the next he is caught napping off first base, or slides into second when second is already occupied, and draws down the wrath of the gods on his luckless skull; and through it all he keeps writing to the girl back home, complaining, bragging, telling artlessly of his dates with a big city siren and committing some of the weirdest spelling that was ever seen on land or sea.

In the end he is gravitated toward a job in Jersey City, shipped there by a despairing Brooklyn management. You'll find his adventures infinitely worth following and you'll get from them many a chesty laugh.

LIEUT. STEWART TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Tells Story Of His Infatuation With A German Woman

London, March 23.—(AP)—Lieutenant Norman Baillie-Stewart of the Seaford Highlanders denied on the witness stand today that he ever had disclosed to a foreign agent any information prejudicial to his country.

The young officer, on trial before a court martial, is accused of betraying military secrets for pay. The money he received, he contends, was sent by a German girl, "Marie Louise," whom he met in Berlin.

"On my honor," he said today, "I never have attempted to obtain, I never have obtained, and I never have disclosed any information prejudicial to the state. There is no possible reason why I should have done so. I never have been in debt in my life."

He explained that memoranda on army matters such as tanks and armored cars, which the prosecution contended he had noted down in connection with his alleged betrayal of secrets, were in fact notes he had made because of his constant interest in matters connected with the mechanism of the army. His brother, who also is an army officer, is much against army mechanism, he said, and they often argued on the subject.

The prosecution, charging that Baillie-Stewart had received $50 in one letter from Germany and $40 in another, described his conduct as "selling the country for $50."

Was Orderly To Prince
While Baillie-Stewart was at the Sandhurst Military School he was ordered to Prince Henry third son of the King.

Regarding his association with Marie Louise the Lieutenant said he was introduced to her in a cafe by a German and that they subsequently became very intimate.

Asked if he paid for entertainment, the accused said, "No. For the first few days I did, and then she paid for nearly everything I had. I gathered that she was very well off."

The accused said he tried often to find out something about her, but could learn nothing.

Told Strange Story
Norman Parkes, his attorney, led him through the strange story about a girl named Marie Louise, who, he says, sent him money in the mail after he had spent a night with her while he was on furlough in Berlin.

The prosecution, which rested this morning, presented several letters from the girl. It was contended that "Marie Louise" was an alias disguising the identity of a foreign agent. The money contained in at least two of the letters, said the prosecution, was Baillie-Stewart's payment for the betrayal of military information.

Defense counsel's opening statement asked the court to dismiss from its mind any impressions which might have been implanted by the prosecution's theory of the defendant's actions.

"You will hear from us a new story," Parkes promised. "The accused will tell you that in Berlin he

Newspapermen In Washington Like Press Talks

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—Something may cause change later but so far President Roosevelt and the newspaper corps seem well satisfied with the informal, direct conferences and answer discussions at Mr. Roosevelt's semi-weekly press conferences.

In re-establishing this type of conferences—abandoned since the early days of the Harding administration—Mr. Roosevelt laughingly said that he had been told they would not continue long. He ventured they could and would be carried out.

Some of the veteran reporters disagreed but after several successful gatherings they have changed their mind.

The procedure at the conferences on Tuesdays at 9 A. M. (EST) and Fridays at 3 P. M. is simple. The newspapermen waiting in the lobby of the executive offices are summoned into the President's room. They fill almost every available bit of space. Mr. Roosevelt greets them and leans comfortably back in his chair.

The questions come thick and fast and some go to the root of delicate questions and situations. Not once thus far has the President shown any sign of impatience or perturbation. There is no hesitation in his answers. When he doesn't make a direct answer, he says: "I can't tell you anything about that yet," or "I don't know."

First off, Mr. Roosevelt tells the reporters whether the answers are "off the record," or "background" to be used on their own authority. Direct quotations are prepared in writing.

All in all, it is a free and easy, give and take exchange, with the President heartily enjoying the frequent quips and sallies.

RUMORED HINES WILL AGAIN BE RAIL DIRECTOR

The Wartime Boss Of All Railroads May Be Drafted Again

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Walker D. Hines, Director-General of Railroads during the wartime federal control period, is the man most prominently mentioned in usually well-informed Wall Street quarters this week for probable elevation to a key position in the administration of the forthcoming transportation program.

Hines, a former director of the Santa Fe and at present a practicing attorney in New York, has been a student of the railroad problem all his life. He is known as an ardent advocate of the theory of consolidation but has freely admitted, in the past, that there are many grave difficulties to be ironed out before any substantial progress can be made in that direction.

It is no secret that the Hines philosophy of railway regulation—and particularly his views on consolidation—would fit into the Roosevelt platform. It is understood that Hines has offered his views on the current situation to President Roosevelt's advisers, and it is assumed that any proposed legislative measures might give consideration to the theories of the former Director-General.

The report persists in rail quarters that the administration will propose a sort of board of control for the steam carriers, with Hines and perhaps at the head.

DEFIANT MINERS
RISK DEATH FOR JOBS IN POLAND

Refuse To Leave Pits
Until Government
Gives Promise

Warsaw, Poland March 23.—(AP)—More than 700 coal miners at Kilmontow, defying death to save their jobs, have begun their fifth successive day in the dark, damp pits underground.

They refused to come to the surface unless the government guaranteed their jobs. From Saturday until last night the striking miners refused food.

They finally broke their fast as they began their fifth night in the mine shafts after previously declining food which had been taken down to them. But instead of coming out, they decided to send representatives here to present their pleas to the government.

The mine operators had announced plans to flood the shafts in which the men worked and to prevent this action the men have remained at their posts since the close of work Saturday night. Their wives and children picketed the pitheads.

Operators decided to flood the shafts because the government re-

Illinoisans In The News At Washington, D. C.

Washington, March 23—(AP)—Illinois Congressmen are expressing increased dissatisfaction over the cold shoulder given their recommendations by officials of Chicago's Century of Progress.

"I can't even get a charwoman hired out there," complained Rep. Adolph J. Sabath, Democrat of Chicago. Rep. Kent E. Keller, Democrat of Ava, Ill., who is chairman of the House committee which will disburse the million dollars allowed for federal participation in the fair, expressed the same sentiments. "I recommend a thoroughly capable bookkeeper for a job out there," said he, "and the officials turned my applicant down flat."

Rep. Fred E. Britten, Republican of Chicago, puts a different light on the matter. Answering an inquiry from him, Rufus Dawes, chief of the fair, wrote that there were almost 28,000 applicants for a mere handful of jobs.

The Albert Gallatin Simmes, she was the former Ruth Hanna McCormick, Rockford newspaper owner and once Congresswoman from Illinois, have an unique heading on their personal stationery.

At the top of each page are the combined letters, A and R (Albert and Ruth), and beneath the initials is engraved, Los Poblanos Ranch, ranch of the City Dwellers, and the last line reads, Albuquerque, N. M.

Mrs. Henry T. Rainey of Carrollton, Ill., wife and secretary of the Speaker, ordered the flags on the Capitol up for the inauguration and down for the funeral of Senator Walsh.

She's been called "Barbara Fritchie" by many of her friends on the Hill since.

Speaking of Mrs. Rainey, it's rather disconcerting to see her interrupt a peal of laughter to break into tears.

Her office is constantly overflowing with needy Illinoisans who came to Washington expecting big things, only to find starvation.

Last week a Chicagoan, Donald Cameron, asked for help.

"I was flat broke," said Mrs. Rainey, "and had to turn the poor man down."

Two days later Cameron leaped to his death off a bridge.

Mrs. Rainey heard of it while chatting with Senator William H. Dieterich, Democrat of Illinois, Earl C. Smith, President of the Illinois Agriculture Association, and this reporter.

She swayed a little and cried for a minute. "I rarely cry," she finally explained, "but the things I see now-days are simply beyond me."

NO IMMEDIATE RESTORATION OF MONARCHY

—ADOLPH HITLER

German Chancellor Indicts Communism In His Address

BULLETIN

Berlin, March 23—(AP)—Restoration of the German monarchy is a matter for future consideration which does not demand immediate attention, Chancellor Adolf Hitler told the Reichstag today in presenting his demand for four years of dictatorial power.

Annihilation of Communism, he declared in outlining his four year plan, is a purely domestic matter which does not concern any foreign power.

"Further development of Communism in this country," he said, "would have meant catastrophe for all Europe."

He dealt only in a general way with economic issues.

"Capital must serve business," he told the Parliament, "and business must serve the interests of the people. My government does not contemplate any experiments with the currency."

Berlin, March 23—(AP)—Opposition parties still permitted to function were warned not to oppose Chancellor Hitler's demand for a four-year dictatorship at today's Reichstag meeting.

The Nazis and Nationalists from their own ranks could almost muster the 2-3 majority vote to assure passage of the enabling act putting the Reichstag out of business and scrapping the republican constitution. Nevertheless, the government served notice it would accept any opposition as "a declaration of war" and that such parties and their voters would suffer.

Two Parties Warned The warning was directed particularly at the Centrists and Socialists, the Communists not being allowed to take their seats.

The Socialists refrained from voting in the Reichstag, in a statement of officers were elected at the Reichstag organization meeting Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the first serious break between Hitler's Nazis and their government associates, the Nationalists, was reported in informed quarters in a dispute over the Premiership of Prussia.

The new Prussian Diet, which was to have elected a Premier today, was indefinitely adjourned after its opening meeting yesterday by the Nazi Speaker, Hans Kerrl.

The Nazi "clean-up" campaign in Berlin brought the closing today of kindergartens and music schools directed by Jews in the Prenzlauer Berg section. Socialists and Communists were barred from city clubhouses and athletic fields.

Communist Slain A Communist leader was slain by a Nazi at Gelsenkirchen. The latter claimed to have acted in self-defense.

Monarchist demonstrations in various parts of the country marked the birthday anniversary yesterday of the last Kaiser's grandfather, Wilhelm I. The Monarchist League of the Upright protested Hitler's declarations at Potsdam at the Reichstag opening and exercises were held at Wilhelm's tomb at the Charlottenburg mausoleum and elsewhere.

Speakers at a "Kaiserstreue" gathering, attended by the ex-Kaiser's second son, Prince Eitel, predicted the return of the monarchy.

Thanks to the work of a British physician and of a veterinary surgeon, the cause of distemper has been determined and a successful method of preventive inoculation developed.

Distemper is caused by an ultra-microscopic organism belonging to the virus class. A vaccine against distemper has been produced. This vaccine contains the killed organisms of distemper and serum from the blood of an animal rendered immune to distemper by repeated administrations of the virus.

It was found that a healthy dog could be given lasting protection against distemper by inoculating it with vaccine, followed subsequently by inoculation of the virus itself. A modification of this treatment was later developed, the dog being immunized by simultaneous injections on different sides of the body with antiserum and virus.

In a dog sick with distemper, the antiserum used alone and early, lessens the severity of the attack. To dogs recently exposed to distemper, the antiserum offers temporary protection.

Other animals subject to distemper may be treated in the same fashion.

OAK FOREST—Mrs. Walter Brauer and Miss Emma Lerche visited one afternoon last week with Mrs. Frank Becker and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoyle and daughter Donna visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Missman in Nachusa.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reglin visited Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hoyle.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boucher received a letter this week from their daughter, Stella, who is living in Yuma, Arizona, where the weather she says, is nice and warm. Stella writes that she was married, recently to a young college graduate, Charles C. Whitman, who is employed in the wholesale establishment of which his brother is manager. Mr. and Mrs. Whitman plan to come back here for a visit, hoping to arrive at Boucher home Sunday morning.

Lester Hoyle has purchased two milk goats from Mr. King, near Eldena, in hopes his health may be benefited by drinking goat's milk. He finds the milk, which is to be palatable, must be cooled immediately after milking, tastes no different from cow's milk.

IT'S A HIT

Her husband is supposed to cut down on the hits, but here's Mrs. Adolph Liska, pasting the hit all over the place. Her hubby is the former Washington pitcher now in training camp with the Phils.

CHICAGO—The Cook county Board of Tax Appeals considered the case of the home owner and then voted a 15 per cent reduction in tax assessments of that class.

The order effects 1931 taxes, now being collected. The home owner was described as the backbone of our community in a statement by the board.

To refuse him aid now when wages have been cut and many savings lost would be un-American, the statement continued.

Jeff said that he had not.

"Then you'll go back to the delicatessen and get some sausages. I'll cook some eggs and make toast and we can have a sort of picnic supper. I have part of a cake and enough lettuce for salad. Do you want to do that?"

"Sure! That's a great idea!"

When he arrived 15 minutes later Janet had the table set. She wore a gingham apron and had pushed her sleeves above her elbows. The coffee pot was sizzling and its fragrant aroma filled the air.

Jeff had made other purchases besides the sausages. He exhibited a box of luscious looking strawberries, a bottle of cream and a box of cheese.

"Why, we'll have a feast!" Janet exclaimed.

She planned another apron about Jeff and set him to hulling the berries while she scrambled eggs and cooked the sausages. By the time they were ready to sit down at the table both of them were laughing. Jeff had been describing immune to distemper by repeated administrations of the virus.

It was found that a healthy dog could be given lasting protection against distemper by inoculating it with vaccine, followed subsequently by inoculation of the virus itself. A modification of this treatment was later developed, the dog being immunized by simultaneous injections on different sides of the body with antiserum and virus.

In a dog sick with distemper, the antiserum used alone and early, lessens the severity of the attack. To dogs recently exposed to distemper, the antiserum offers temporary protection.

Other animals subject to distemper may be treated in the same fashion.

ST. XAVIER IS FAVORITE FOR CATHOLIC FLAG

The Louisville Team Is Apparent Class Of National Meet

Chicago, March 23—(AP)—One barrage of field goals in one engagement today marked the Tigers of St. Xavier, Louisville, Ky., as the team to beat for the national Catholic high school basketball championship.

Minus the masterminding of their coach, Bob Schumann, bedridden with an attack of influenza, the Tigers soared into a prohibitive favorites roll last night by submerging the St. Thomas Cadets of St. Paul, 38 to 14, with one of the sweetest scoring combinations ever witnessed at the 10-year-old tournament. They meet St. Patrick's of Chicago, the defending titleholder, in the second round Friday and no one gave the champs a chance.

Cliff Haendiges, a towering center of six feet three inches, led the victorious assault that sent the spectators away last night with St. Xavier their pick to win the title. Not only did he give the Kentuckians possession of the ball on every center jump, but he pumped in field goals from all regions of the floor, rolling up 11 points during three-quarters of the game. Warfield Donohub, at forward, also starred in the attack with 10 points. St. Hart, which romped through a fast field last year, defeated Gilmuth of Vincennes, Ind., 30 to 23 in the opening game of the tournament, but was far less impressive. Loss of four players from the 1932 lineup weakened them considerably. St. Mary's of Huntington, Ind., which survived by defeating St. Joseph of Cairo, Ill., in the third game last night, ranked as one of the darkest of dark horses.

Eleven games were on the schedule for today and tonight, with the firing to continue from 9 A. M. when St. Leo of Minot, N. D., meets St. Rita, Chicago, until 10 P. M. At the conclusion of the Central Catholic high, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and St. Francis Xavier, Green Bay, Wis., battle. De Paul Academy, rated as one of the real title threats, faces St. Joseph of Enid, Okla.

REMARKS ON RIVALRY—
Four major indoor track meets at Madison Square Garden recently attracted 60,000 people. It was the best indoor track season since Paavo Nurmi packed them in eight years ago. Intense rivalries between Venkze and Cunningham, Berlinger and Bausch and Toppino and Metcalfe brought them out.

AT THE RACES—

The element at the race track is directly important. Each $2 bettor stakes his judgment against that of hundreds, or thousands, of others in a gamble—Why do people made poor by a panic turn to gambling? Perhaps the idea is there is something to gain and not much to lose. Gambling is rivalry in the nth degree. Thus may be explained the wagering of more than $8,000,000 at the recent Hialeah meeting in Florida.

CLOSE BATTLES—

When the contestants are evenly matched the crowds come. Hockey has proved that again this season. The National League proved it during the last few seasons—and just as the American League proved it last year, inversely—the A. L. losing thousands in attendance because the race was over July 4.

GRIMM STARTING FIRST SEASON IN MANAGERIAL ROLE

The Cubs' Leader Is Well Satisfied With His Team He Says

By RUSSILL J. NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

San Francisco, March 23—(AP)—Charley Grimm is starting his first season as manager of the Chicago Cubs with a smile on his lips and an ache in his back. He has been battling the lumbago for several weeks.

"The only grim part of the business is my being laid up when my feet are itching to get out on the field," said the liberal skipper of the defending National League champions. "Say, that's not a bad line, is it? Grim details worry Grimm." Well, I've got it licked now. Expect to be back at first sack in a few days.

"There is nothing to worry over so far as the club is concerned. With Babe Herman in right field we have added batting punch that should mean a lot more runs this year. Our only weakness, as I see it, is a lack of experienced left-handed pitching. Still, we've had the same weakness for four or five years and managed to win pennants."

"We have a great young club. I never played with a finer bunch of fellows. If we don't win it won't be because of poor team work." Grimm took over the managerial reins the last seven weeks of last season. The team was on a road trip, in second place and 6 1-2 games behind Pittsburgh. When it returned to Chicago it was in first place by half a game and stayed in front.

Has Strong Club

The Cubs' pilot starts this season with a strong club, largely because of the acquisition of Floyd "Babe" Herman, for years Brooklyn's crouching mainstay. Herman's presence should relieve Riggs Stevenson, left field, of some of the clean-up hitting burden. Kiki Cuyler will roam center field as usual. Frank Demaree, who made good in his first season up last year, will be on hand for emergency fly chasing duties and either Vince Barton or Paul McCarron will round out the infield. Grimm is impressed with the work of McCarron, recruit picked up this year from the Albany, N. Y., club. He will stock with the team until it reaches Chicago for the opening of the season and may hang around a lot longer if Barton does not come through.

Barton, who has had three trials in nursing a bad arch in his left foot.

Eight Pitchers Set

The Cubs are "set" in eight pitching positions with Burleigh Grimes, Guy Bush, LeRoy Herrmann, Pat Malone, Len Warneke, Charley Root, Lyle Tinning and Carroll Yerkes, the latter a left hander. Two other southpaws, Roy Henshaw and Beryl Richmond and the right handers, Lynn Nelson and Lyle Newsum, are fighting for the ninth place.

With left handed help, desired Richmond, for whom a fair sized piece of change was given to Baltimore and Henshaw, University of Chicago, recruit, have the inside track. Henshaw has been the most impressive to date but Richmond has been troubled with a sore arm.

The three musketeers behind the plate are "Gabby" Hartnett, Zack Taylor and Bill Campbell. Grimm says that catching staff will do until a better one dashes up.

The infield is unchanged with Grimm at first, Billy Herman at second, Bill Jurgas at short and Elwood English at third. Mark Koenig, who served long and honorably with the Yankees, Stanley Hack and Harvey Hendrick will do the general utility chores. Hendrick also being equally at home in the outfield. Koenig joined the team last season in time to help win the pennant.

Harry Taylor, formerly with Seattle and last season with Albany and regarded as a great first base prospect, is to be farmed out again with "return on demand" strings attached.

born of the rivalry of white hopes trying to prove they could beat Jack Johnson. Partisan desire was fanned into flames in the fans' breasts by the competitive spirits of Tunney and Dempsey—After Tunney retired rivalry faded—and the business of fighting waned.

THE BABE'S HARD LUCK—

It is unfortunate that C. C. Pyle is not more active in sports—I mean it is too bad for Babe Didrickson, the Texas honey who seems to be alone in her class. Perhaps it is not too late—Pyle may be able to dig up an Eskimo who can hurl a harpoon as far as Babe can pitch the javelin—or some Senegambian sweetie who can outrun her—With some kind of a rival Babe would thrive.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Bulls are color blind—and the cape that a bull fighter waves at the enraged animals might as well be blue as red. What the bull charges at is the moving object, not the color—The bull is pretty accurate in his attack. Sidney Franklin, American who is an expert battler of bulls, says that if a bull misses a man half an inch the first time, the man had better make allowance for that half inch the next time he rushes. The most sensitive part of the bull's anatomy is the tip of the horn.

THIS IS GREAT DAY FOR EIGHT H. S. QUINTETS

Fight For The Illinois Basketball Flag Starts At 3 P. M.

Champaign, Ill., Mar. 23—(AP)—This was "the day" for eight bands of youngsters who will fight for the Illinois high school basketball title.

At 3 P. M. today Springfield high, winner of the Springfield-Decatur sectional, and Hutsonville, victor in the Casey tournament, were listed to open the heavy firing. An hour later the schedule said Lakeview, Chicago champion, would meet Gillespie, which fought its way through the opposition at Salem.

Mahomet, which never before has played in the championship tournament, and Thornton high of Harvey, one of the outstanding teams to reach the finals, will open the night program. What is expected to be the most bitterly contested game of the first round was on the card, with Canton and Benton struggling for the opportunity to play more than one game.

Springfield's coach is Park Peterman, who brings his seventh team in eleven years to the tournament. His Canton five took down the honors in 1928.

P. E. Huffman is Hutsonville's coach. Hutsonville last appeared in the final tournament five years ago. Lakeview is coached by Guy Dickerman, and makes its first appearance at Champaign. Gillespie, coached by G. W. Grauel, ranks as one of the best of the downstate teams. Thornton is coached by a former Illinois star, Jack Lipe, a brother of Cord Lipe, and also is in the tournament for the first time. Archie Gladd, former Butler star, brings Canton to the big battle for the second straight year. Canton finished in second place last year, losing to Morton of Cicero in the finals. Hubert Tabor, one of the real veterans, is Benton's coach. His team is rated as a hot title bet if it gets by Canton. Roy Johnson and Mahomet are in the tournament for the first time. They got in by defeating the highly regarded Streator team in the Normal final.

RUTH ACCEPTS LOWEST SALARY SINCE YEAR '21

Bambino And Owner Of Yankees Have Ended Confabs

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 23—(AP)—Babe Ruth again will do the honors for the New York Yankees this year but at a salary not so high as he originally demanded nor so low as Col. Jacob Ruppert's early ultimatum.

The Yankee home run slugger finally agreed to sign a one-year contract for $52,000 the lowest salary he has received since the $30,000 days of 1921.

When the Babe and Colonel Ruppert began their annual argument over money matters, Ruth first said he'd have to get $62,500 or quit baseball. Colonel Ruppert said he would go as high as $50,000 but no higher. Ruth finally dropped to $50,000, but Colonel Ruppert stuck for the $50,000 figure. Then Babe made it $55,000 to no avail.

Yesterday they got together. Each made concessions and the outcome was an agreement on $52,000. The figure is $500 below the 1923-1926 level. Ruth received $80,000 for 1930 and 1931 and $75,000 last year.

He is 39 years old and in his 20th big league season. Babe is in good condition but has a few pounds of extra weight he hopes to get off without much trouble.

ROSS GETS HIS CHANCE AT TONY CANZONERI NEXT

Won The Decision In His Scrap With Billy Petrolle

Chicago, March 23—(AP)—Barney Ross, a youngster from Chicago's Ghetto, has earned himself a chance at Tony Canzoneri's world lightweight championship.

By outpointing Billy Petrolle, the Fargo, N. D., old gentleman, who has been the yardstick by which lightweight contenders are measured, last night in the Chicago Stadium, Ross certified himself as about the best of the field seeking to dethrone the champion.

Ross didn't beat old Billy by a mile, but he did a good enough job to convince the titleholder. Canzoneri sat at the ringside and watched it. Apparently he hadn't expected much of Ross, for he said the 22-year-old Chicagoan had surprised him.

"He's a good boy," the champion said. "He fooled me. He won off by himself. He outboxed Billy and hurt him several times. I'll be glad to meet him."

Battle A Sizzler

The battle was a sizzler every step of the way. Petrolle's ceaseless marches and Ross' frequent stirring rallies had the crowd of about 15,000, the best that has watched a fight in the Stadium in many a night, on its feet cheering from start to finish.

The decision was unanimous. Referee Phil Collins voted 52 to 48 for Ross, and the judges, William Battye and Edward Klein, decided for the Chicago youth by votes of 56 to 44, and 55 to 45, respectively.

Ross wasted no time in getting to work on the battle scarred face of the warrior. His busy left hand pumped into Billy's face for points and sharp right crosses added more to Ross' score. After the first three rounds, in which Ross piled up a big lead, Petrolle shifted his attack to the body. He was more successful, but not enough to offset Ross' markedly superior boxing ability.

Petrolle Aggressor

Petrolle was the aggressor most of the route, but his efforts seemed to fit in with Ross' plan of battle. Driven into corners time after time, Ross fought his way out with sudden furious bursts that made Petrolle give ground. In the seventh round Billy halted and urged Ross to do some of the leading. The Chicago youngster responded by giving the old gentleman a good beating about the head.

Petrolle saved a $1,000 weight forfeit by scaling 137 3-4, a quarter of a pound under the agreement. Riss hit the lightweight limit of 135 pounds, when he stepped on the scales. Ross was credited with a shade of some kind in seven rounds, with two going to Petrolle and the other one even.
